Blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. Thos. Schafer, three; Mrs. Chas. Breath, one; Mrs. C. Newton, one; Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab, one; Mrs. L. T. Boyd, one and Dr. Emmett Irwin, five.

For second place, red ribbons were awarded to Mrs. L. T. Boyd, two; Mrs. A. G. Favre, one; Dr. Bannister, one; Dr. Irwin two and Father C. Baker, of St. Augustine Seminary, three.

Ten-colors were awarded to Mrs. C. Newton for her camellia arrangement and to Mrs. Thos. Schafer, for horticulture. The grand prize ribbon for members was awarded to Mrs. Thos. Schafer and for guests, to Dr. Emmett Irwin.

Mrs. Charles M. Beyer won the entrance prize which was a box of lovely camellia blooms.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. R. Rollins, president, who announced that plans were complete for the tea and card party at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, from two-o'clock until five, on February 10th, for the benefit of the Yacht Club in landscaping the grounds.

Plans are under way for the Pilgrimage Brunch to be held, with entertainment, from eleven o'clock until one, on March 15th. Gardens will be open from one o'clock until five and the list of gardens in the Pilgrimage will be published later. The pilgrimage will begin in Bay St. Louis on March 15th, for one day only, and each Coast town will have one day making up the five days' Pilgrimage. Mrs. Dorothy Dennis, Coast Pilgrimage Chairman was a guest at the meeting.

A contribution of $1000 was given to the Teen Age Club. This is the unused portion of a fund allotted to children in the Junior Garden Club and since the program of the Junior Garden Club is completed it was decided to donate the amount as intended to children and so it was given to the Youth Center.

Due to low tide, barges containing shells for repair of the Beach Road have not been able to land and thus caused a delay in the shelling of the road between Citizen Street and Uman Avenue.

The Beach Road, damaged by the hurricane in 1947, first was filled in with clay and is now in process of having six inches of shells placed on top and the work has progressed to the extent that, with fair weather, the shelling should be completed this week.

Adams of Natchez, which called for a public use and local option, and No. 67, by Sen. William McGraw of Benton also a referendum measure but lacking the option clause.

Gentry said all sponsors of the bills were given a full and fair hearing. Voting to send the liquor bills to the floor, Gentry added were Sens. Oscar Houston of Tunica and Robert Thompson of Jackson.

Gentry, a Mount Olive resident and long an arch enemy of liquor, said he opposed the public referendum features because if the bills passed, preachers would be forced to take the stump against them.

"Preachers should not be forced to leave their pulpits to do that," he declared.

The house temperance committee has taken favorable action on Rep. Hamer McKenzie's bill setting stiff penalties on violators of the liquor laws. The committee added a provision making federal whiskey stamps and black market receipts prima facie evidence and requiring the state tax collector to turn the receipts over to arresting authorities on demand.

Ladner, however, said he had merely acted in the 1948 committee to get the bills out on the floor for final action. He voted against the liquor bill on the floor, he added.

The committee also voted down 5-4 a house-approved resolution demanding that the federal government stop selling liquor licenses in this dry state.

Killed were senate bills 60, authored by Fred Jones of Inverness, Frank Smith of Greenwood and Lawrence

ALTAR SOCIETY MEET HELD WEDNESDAY

The monthly meeting of the Altar Society of Our Lady of the Gulf Church met in the Den at the Convent Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with about twenty members present.

The meeting was a very lively one. The audited books of last year were transferred to Miss Kathleen Renshaw, the treasurer for 1950, and a financial statement for the year 1949 was read. Sister Omelch announced that as soon as she receives literature from the Catholic Action Office, members could start the subscription drive.

Mrs. L. S. Elliott introduced Mrs. C. M. Beyer, who spoke of her Grey Lady work at the Veterans Hospital in Gulfport and asked that members contribute homemade candies and cookies as her group goes every Friday to entertain the soldiers.

Mrs. Saab won the door prize, and at the conclusion of business, refreshments were served. Mrs. Daisy Wentworth and Mrs. S. T. Assenheimer were hostesses for the afternoon.

Mrs. Errol O. Horner, organizational director of the League of Women Voters will be in Bay St. Louis on February 14. Mrs. Horner has been on the staff of the League since 1946, and prior to that time was with the War Finance Division of the U.S. Treasury. She is enroute from Natchez to Gulfport and will stop over in the Bay to discuss with the women of Hancock County the obligation of intelligent understanding and participation in government, whether it be that of our country, our state, our county, or our town.

Although Mrs. Horner has had much experience in organizational work in many sections of the United States, this is her first visit in Mississippi, and it is hoped that every woman, who is able, will take advantage of the opportunity to hear about this extraordinary organization and to avail herself of the opportunity of becoming a charter member of the League.

The hour and place of the meetings will be announced later.

Attorney General Rules Commissioners Wrong In Assuming Full Control

Issue Opinion In Answer to Inquiry from Mayor Warren Carver

Plans are not yet complete for the "Special Sales Day," the latest project of the Chamber of Commerce of Bay St. Louis. A Saturday has been decided as the best day of the week for out-of-town shoppers but a definite date has not been set as Mr. A. J. Chapman, chairman of the project, and his committee have not completely formulated their plans. Members of the committee are Octave Delph, J. R. Schaff, Emmett Demoran, Mrs. Gordon Gleim and Mrs. Joseph Kern.

Transportation is to be furnished by the Shaw Bus Line for the Special free of charge to out-of-town shoppers on Sales Day. The merchants in the Bay will share the cost of the bus, and the date of the Special Sales will be announced later.

Messrs. Dan Russell, T. T. Robin, Robert Hamilton and Hardin Shattuck represented the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce at the banquet meeting of the Mississippi Coast Council in Pica-yune, Mississippi, Wednesday night, with the Pica-yune Chamber of Commerce as host. There was a good attendance with representation from Chambers of Commerce from Moss Point, Pascagoula and along to Pica-yune. The Council meets once a month with each member Chamber of Commerce having turn as host.

At the meeting there was discussed a number of projects in the Legislature, such as the Tug Oil Improvement program and the Council is especially interested in making Highway 90 a four-way lane from the Bay St. Louis Bridge to the Alabama state line and the rebuilding of the bridge at Bay St. Louis. As every one knows the bridge is a very weak link in the chain of highways along the Coast and every effort is being made to have a concrete bridge built.

EXCUSES FOR WHEN THE WIFE SAYS, "WHAT, NO FISH AGAIN?"

Fishing has risen to the height of an international institution with millions of devoted followers caught under its spell. Each man, hopelessly bitten by the fishing bug, seems to have his own rules that assure him his full string at the end of a perfect day of angling. There are those who are guided by the barometer and wouldn't go against it if the fish were jumping onto the bank in search of food and eating old worn out hunters. Some men are driven to the rivers when the "tide" is right; others look to the moon, or test the wind with a wet index finger. I, personally, have my own system—my marching orders come every Saturday even if it's snowing or hailing, tide or no tide; barometer, moon, wind and weather in general be d---, I go. You see, Saturdays are the only day I have off, Saturdays are Fishurdays to me—simple huh?

There are a few fishing fiends who simply spit on their bait, toss it overboard and wait. What say, we go on a fishing trip and fill our well with a fine variety of finicky fishes fetched from our favorite stream.

We arise from our warm slumber at 5:00 o'clock, dress, gulp our coffee and are off. Hum-m-m, the moon is not right, looks like a bad day for the start—but no matter, we don't fish by the moon. Out on the river bank, we unhook our gear and stow it in the boat and prepare to shove off. O-O-A! water seems a bit too warm and a mite fresh—too much rain lately; that's all right though, we never bother about the water being too fresh, probably plenty salty on bottom.

Well into our fishing grounds now, we begin to troll, "wonder what plug to use?" "Blast it! can't get this 'x'!" motor to idle down slow enough, going too fast!

After the racketeers, hell-divers, gnats, spoons, red-heads, paul bunyons, pearls, mullets and two dozen other plugs fail to bring in a single foolish fish, we can start blaming the falling tide or maybe the rising tide, which ever the case may be. They won't bite while running down stream or up. "Couldn't expect much luck today though, the barometer has been falling all morning."

Of course, if it was rising, then blame the empty well on that. The wind seems to be a bit strong too, and of all days for it to blow from the East, today had to be the day. We're firm believers in the old saying: "When the wind's from the East, the fish bite the least." And then too, there's that nip tide (this is always a good excuse). The tide has done nothing all day but sit; it gushes out, then plunges in, stops, rises, falls, sits then starts out or in then halts. Oh Brother! this is a mess; there'll be no fish today.

Besides, we forgot to spit on our bait. The morning is about over and still no fish, but we have plenty of excuses. Nobody else caught anything today either. The fish just were not biting, we do know what was wrong however; the moon was too old; the barometer was falling; the tide was nipping; the weather was dripping; East wind; poor motor; no good plugs; backlashes; rot-

BAY HI MITTMEN DEFEAT BELZONI WARRIORS

The Bay High Tigers started the 1950 boxing season with a bang when they defeated the Belzoni Warriors at Bay Hi Gym by the score of eight and a half to three and a half. The Tigers all showed fine class and real sportsmanship and the Belzoni Warriors were good sports. In the first bout Vestel (Black) Poydau won a very close decision over Richard Ray in the 60-65 lb. class. In the 70-75 lb. class A. J. (Little Axe) Peterson of the Tigers walloped his opponent Paul win a very popular decision of the referee. Roberts in three consecutive rounds to fierce also the fans. In the 80-85 lb. class Raymond Morel of the Tigers just a very close decision to James (Deedy) Cole, the lone State Champ of 49 for the Tigers won a very popular decision over Belzoni's Larry Gordon.

In the 95-100 lb. class Ronald Sol-dini of the Tigers and Bobby Grace fought three grueling rounds to a draw. In the 105-112 lb. class M. J. Pay-deau and Ken Fonden had a regular slugfest for three fast rounds and the bout was called a draw. In the 112-118 lb. class Jimmy (Fee-Wee) McArthur won easily over Tom Ely of Belzoni. McArthur was bloody from the first round until the end of the fight but won easily.

In the 121-128 lb. class Louis Oliver of Bay Hi and Charles Roby stood toe to toe, none giving ground for three rounds and the bout was declared a draw. In the 128-135 lb. class the first TKO of the evening, Herman (Buck) Price TKO over Cliff Ely in the 2nd round and as the first round was close the second round started and after 48 seconds Price had stopped his man.

In the 126-135 lb. class, the Tiger's Martin Noto won easily over Sam Roberts of the Warriors in three good rounds in which was a real fight as both boys said "I won't give up."

In the 135-145 lb. class Marvin Dorr who for the first time wore gloves and crawled in the ring, carried a very powerful right hand and sent Elzey Martin to the canvas in 1 min. 20 sec. of the first round. It looked as if Dorr would have gone down but he held up and landed a hard right to Martin's mid-section and Martin hit the canvas and the referee stopped the fight.

The final bout in the 135-145 lb. class, Wallace Blackwood of Belzoni had too much experience for John Ginn when Ginn was floored early in the second round by a hard right to the jaw. That was the first time Ginn wore gloves and while the bout lasted it was a good scrap.

August Scafid was the referee and Chas. Breath, Jr. was time keeper. Bay Hi meets Belzoni at Belzoni this Friday night.

BAY HI LOSES TRIPLE HEADER TO KILN HI.

Bay Hi Jrs. 21—Kiln Hi Jrs. 30
Bay Tigerettes 47—Kiln Girls 69
Bay Tigers 34—Kiln Wildcats 43
In the festival of ball games, the Bay High Jrs., Tigerettes and Tigers lost to the Kiln Jrs., Wildcats and Kiln Girls Tuesday night at Bay Hi Gym. The Jr. team of both schools started things off and it was a wow of a ball game from start to finish. The Kiln Jr. team really out played the Jr. Tigers and came out in front by the score of 30 to 21.

The Tigerettes of Bay Hi and the Kiln Girls took the floor and played a bang-up ball game but Kiln being the taller girls was too much for the Tigerettes. Necaise, Kiln High's forward scored 41 of the 69 points which the Kiln girls scored.

In the first quarter, the Kiln girls led the Bay Hi Tigerettes by the score of 17-12. It was mostly a see-saw qtr and led by Necaise; she sure could find the basket.

In the second quarter, the Kiln girls went way out front to lead the Tigerettes 38-24.

At the end of the third quarter the Kiln girls were 20 points over the Bay team and it looked like the Kiln team was out of danger and sure was far when the final whistle blew, the Kiln girls had defeated the Tigerettes 69-47. Necaise while Necaise was high scorer for the Kiln team.

Playing outstanding guards and holding down their positions well were Mitchell and Garriga of Kiln High and for the locals, Maskeu and Younger. Officials for the game were Osbourn and Pat Murphy.

After leading by 7-5 at the quarter, the Bay High Tigers were defeated in the final game on the triple windup by the Kiln Wildcats by the score of 43 to 34.

After the second quarter started the Kiln boys made goals from every angle of the court and at half time led Bay Hi 20 to 10.

The third quarter was played with a lot of vim and vigor for both teams really played heads up ball and when the whistle blew ending the quarter, the score was 29-20 in favor of Kiln. The final quarter had the most playing for both teams wanted to get into the lead in which was a see-saw shooting match for points. The two teams played well and it was a good game all the way. When the final whistle blew the Kiln team was ahead and won by the score of 43-34.

Johnson, Randolph and Williams were outstanding for the Tigers; Bob Clapp also played a bang-up game for the home team.

For the Wildcats, Mauffrey and Haas were outstanding. At the time of this writing the Tigers and Tigerettes are playing in the Pass Christian Invitational Tournament. On January 17 the Tigers meet SSC at Bay Hi Gym.

Tonight at Bay Hi Gym the House of David team plays Southerners of Gulfport. The preliminary game will be Cy-Rape vs. Picayune.

The voice of the Pope giving the holy year prayer in five languages and the papal benediction in Latin was especially recorded by the Vatican.

Proceeds from the record's sale will go to the Catholic University of the

NEW DRUG ACTH STOPS LEUKEMIA, EXPERTS REPORT

New York—Acute leukemia, the fatal blood cancer, is being stopped in its tracks by the wonder hormone, Acth, three cancer experts report.

Five patients treated with the hormone all have made dramatic recoveries, Drs. O. H. Pearson, L. P. Eliel and T. R. Talbot, Jr., of the Sloan-Kettering Institute and Memorial Hospital, said last week.

One child had a relapse three weeks later, but again was brought back to health with ACTH. The others, two children and two adults, still were well one day to five weeks after getting the hormone. They had almost no signs of the disease. They had received daily injections for 24 to 30 days.

Whether they will have relapses is not yet known, Dr. Pearson said. He said these recoveries still must be called temporary and incomplete.

Other treatments bring temporary recoveries in leukemia. But the best of these has been only about 30 per cent effective in children. Acth thus appears to be the best drug yet found to help these patients.

Leukemia is a cancer of the blood, with the body making too many white blood cells. Acute, or fast-acting attacks usually kill in a few weeks or months, or in a year.

Chronic leukemia, which people may have for years, also is halted temporarily by Acth. It comes back later, but then the hormone can bring recovery a second time. This effect in chronic leukemia was reported a few months ago.

The new results in acute leukemia were described before the New York Academy of Medicine in a meeting devoted to Acth and Cortisone. Acth is a hormone from the pituitary gland, and Cortisone is made by the adrenal glands.

Another patient with acute leukemia recovered when given Cortisone, Dr. Pearson's group reported. Three children getting Acth or Cortisone died, but with leukemia, they said.

So far, Acth hasn't shown any effect against other forms of cancer, including cancer of the breast, testes, and adrenal gland. In leukemia, it destroyed cancer tissue. The studies are going on in attempts to learn just how the hormones produce these good effects, and how to better the treatments.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

By Mrs. Georgette Hall

The Junior Women's Guild under the sponsorship of Mrs. Johann Craft entertained at a tea on the afternoon of Sunday, January 15 at Craft's Anchorage. Misses Mary Margaret Turcotte, Barbara Jenkins, Audrey Bourgeois, Catherine Bourgeois, and Ruth Noto represented the Guild and their guests in uniform from Keesler Field were Messrs. Bob Meyer, Richard Descano and Tom Nolette. Lieutenant Vermeer, who is in charge of the Wednesday night dances at Keesler Field, sponsored the boys' outing. The young people enjoyed a thoroughly pleasant afternoon which included a quiz program, piano selections played by Tom Nolette and delicious food prepared by the girls and Mrs. Craft. Mrs. Norman Hall also enjoyed the party.

Waveland has a just right to be proud of two of its fairest damsels, Misses Mary Margaret Turcotte and Barbara Jenkins, who were selected from this area including Pass Christian, Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula to represent Waveland in the forthcoming Carnival Ball to be held at Keesler Field in February. Extensive plans for a very festive affair are underway and we are proud that these two very attractive young ladies will represent our town. Congratulations, girls.

While we are extending congratulations, a great many should certainly be saved for the winners of the "Oscar" recently awarded by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Inc. Once more two of our Waveland ladies covered themselves with acting laurels when they were awarded the coveted awards for the best female performance and for the best female supporting role of the year. 1949 Mrs. Myrtle Stoffel was presented with an "Oscar" for her delightful performance as Ruth Sherwood in "My Sister Eileen" and Mrs. Johann Craft received her Oscar for a splendid character portrayal, that of Mrs. Danvers, the housekeeper, in "Rebecca." Mrs. Horace Thompson who so pleased audiences as Father in "Life With Father" ran a close second to Philip Allison who received the Oscar for the best male lead of the year. This is the second time in the last two years that Mr. Thompson has been second in the voting. We sincerely hope that he will take another leading role in the theatre very soon. His performance is always a credit both to the Little Theatre and to Waveland.

Pretty, little Lynne Hall entertained a few of her classmates at the Beach home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall on Saturday afternoon, January 14. The children played games and enjoyed fruit punch and cake. Those joining in the fun making were, J. D. Bourgeois, Mickey Graham, Bob Lenders, Geraldine Bourgeois, Grace Ann Bourgeois, Patsy Bozeman, Jane Schiffman and Margie.

Miss Catherine Luxich, daughter of Mrs. Ory Bourgeois and Claiborne Lender, was married to Mr. Pat Toomey on Saturday, January 14. Best wishes

Unfair To Tax Payers

The Commissioners failed to act on the motion of the mayor that an attempt be made to collect certain ad valorem and personal assessments amounting to $307,491.00 due by various parties for the years 1944 through 1947. Failure to comply with the suggestion of the mayor definitely brands the Commissioners as being unfair to those taxpayers who paid all of their taxes during those years. A partial list of property owners, according to the report of the State Department of Audit, who did not pay on certain assessments for the years mentioned above is quite lengthy. However, the unpaid assessments of a few of those privileged taxpayers are listed below:

Hancock Bank	$15,625.00
Mrs. Jeanette Carmichael	250.00
A. G. Favre	400.00
Mrs. Jeanette Carmichael	1,300.00
Mrs. Jeanette Carmichael	250.00
S. J. Ladner	60.00
Harry Sumrall	230.00
D. M. Russell	3,200.00
Jeanette Carmichael	1,145.00
S. J. Ladner, Jr.	70.00

The parties whose names appear above, have either directly or indirectly taken a very lively interest in righting the wrongs or mistakes which they claim other people have done or made. They have been the staunch advocates of righteousness. For that reason there is no doubt that their taxes would be paid upon request of the City Tax Collector.

OR COULD IT BE THAT THE COMMISSIONERS HAVE OTHER REASONS FOR NOT MAKING DEMAND FOR PAYMENT?

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By James L. Bishop, Soil Conservation Service

Tunas Cuevas, a farmer three miles east of Catahoula, who is cooperating with the Hancock County Soil District, has surveyed terraces on 10 acres of crop land recently. Terracing is one of the first steps toward a complete land-use conservation program planned for this farm with the assistance of Soil Conservation Service technicians.

Cornelius T. Favre, a cooper, one mile north of Kiln, is proud of his permanent pasture. "My cows have grazed in the pasture all the year without any additional feed. A cattle dealer told me last week, they were the fattest cows he had looked at in the county. My White Dutch Cloyer pasture was grazed from early February until September, each acre supporting two cows; then I turned them on common lespedeza pasture which grew fine and I will soon be alternating my cows in this pasture with the White Dutch clover. October, I planted five acres of Kentucky 31 Fescue and white Dutch clover in another pasture. It was hot and dry and I didn't get up a

Forty additional farms will be mapped and planned during 1950. Thirty applications for farm plans have been received in the work unit office. Ten of these farms have been mapped and three farms planned.

Planting season is now on hand. Fifty thousand slash pine seedlings were delivered to 4-H Club members and District Cooperators last week. Applications were made last November. Seedlings were furnished by the Mississippi Forestry Commission Nursery.

BILL INTRODUCED TO PROVIDE FOUR-LEAF MEDICAL SCHOOL

Granada, Miss. J. K. Aven, chairman of the Statewide Citizens Committee for the establishment of a four-year medical school said Wednesday that HB No. 209 which was introduced this week in the Mississippi Legislature had the endorsement of her committee and the Mississippi State Medical Association.

The Bill, which was introduced by Mrs. T. C. Vanden, Representative from Carroll County, and 15 other members of the House of Representatives, would establish a four-year medical school and a 350-bed teaching hospital as a part of the University of Mississippi. The school and hospital would be located on state owned land north of the City of Jackson.

"The introduction of HB No. 209 represents several months of study and work by our committee and thousands of other Mississippians interested in providing better medical care for our people," Mrs. Aven stated.

The four-year medical school and teaching hospital would enable our young men and women to complete their medical education within Mississippi and not be forced to hunt for training in other states.

It would also provide a medical center where the latest research and information on the prevention and cure of disease would be made available for all of our people," she said.

The bill sets up a medical school building committee to serve as an advisory committee to the State Building Commission. It would be composed of the dean of the Medical School of the University, the president of the State Medical Association, the superintendent of the State Sanatorium, the executive director of the State Hospital, the executive director of the State Board of Health, the executive secretary of Institutions of higher learning and the president of the Hinds County Board of Supervisors. In addition, provision is made for the governor to appoint three citizens from the state at large, one of whom shall be a physician.

The Building Committee would be authorized to select the site for the school and hospital and prepare complete plans and specifications to be followed in their building. The State Building Commission would then proceed with construction according to these specifications.

Funds would be obtained from appropriations by the State Legislature, federal grants under the Hill-Burton

Act of Congress and $1,500,000 from Hinds County. The Hinds County money would be used in building the 350 bed teaching hospital, which is estimated to cost $4,500,000.

Full title to both the school and hospital and all equipment would be vested in the University of Mississippi. The Bill provides that "the hospital and related facilities shall be utilized to serve the people of Mississippi generally; shall be operated upon the basis of charges for services rendered, but shall do a reasonable volume of free work for indigent patients or patients unable to pay the full rates and charges. The income derived from the operations of the hospital shall be utilized toward the payment of the operating expenses of the hospital."

Other members of the House Representatives who joined Mrs. Vanden in introducing the Bill were: Messrs. Barclift and Gandy, Mrs. McGeehe, and Messrs. Grubbs, Price of Lawrence County, Holleman, McKenzie, Stewart of Amite County, Borden, Little, Peek, Gautier, Wumack, Bickelstaff and Andrews.

GI DIVIDEND $46 MILLION IN STATE

Jackson—A veterans official has predicted that World War II veterans in Mississippi will get about $46,000,000 in insurance refunds.

The prediction was made by Bob Dekay, executive director for the state service commission and veterans affairs board. Dekay said the 237,610 World War II veterans in the state would get an estimated $175 each, with payments expected to begin in a few weeks.

The refunds represent overpayment on National Service Life Insurance.

"Red, Hot and Blue" At Orff Theatre Thurs. And Fri., January 26-27

There will be a great deal of fun on the screen of the Orff Theatre with Paramount's "Red, Hot and Blue" with Betty Hutton cutting a wider, funnier swath than ever before! Betty is co-starring with Victor Mature in this hilarious film about a stage-struck girl from Ohio who wants to make the grade on Broadway in a great, big hurry.

It has been a few years since that particular kind of fun was available to fans because Betty took a leave of absence from acting to have her second daughter. And there's never been anyone who could hold a candle to her for uninhibited ebullience and infectious animal spirits, which she has ample opportunity to display in "Red, Hot and Blue." Betty has never been peppier and her rendition of the four new songs written especially for her by Frank Loesser is a riot of melody, action and a la Hutton and laughs!

Featured roles are filled by William Demarest who portrays Betty's high-powered press agent, June Havoc and Jane Nigh, showgirl room-mates of Betty, Raymond Walburn as a millionaire columnist, and song-writer Frank Loesser who makes his acting debut as a piano-playing gangster with whom Betty becomes involved.

Victor Mature, as Betty's serious-minded boy friend, has his hands full keeping her in check when she decides the short cut to stardom is by getting her picture in the newspapers and her name in their columns. Her press agent goes a little too far to accomplish that, involving her with a racketeer who is bumped off in Betty's presence and his strong-arm men kidnap her and try to force her to reveal the name of the killer. It isn't so much what happens to Betty at that point that brings down the house, but what happens to the gangsters!!

The four songs Betty does are "I Wake Up," "Now That I Need You," "That's Loyalty" and a sensational live version of "Hamlet," in which Betty impersonates a zany Ophelia.

John Farrow directed the film.

Congressional Sidelights

—by— CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLMER

REVOLUTION IN THE HOUSE

The House Rules Committee, of which we are a member, exploded an atomic bomb, militarily speaking, in the Truman Administration's camp this week when it reported out a resolution to restore the power of that committee, which had been taken away from it at the beginning of the 81st Congress. As we have repeatedly pointed out in this column and elsewhere, the rules of procedure in the House were changed under the lash of Administration leaders last January for the purpose of facilitating the passage of the Truman Program including civil rights. Prior to that time, the Rules Committee, through which all important and controversial legislation from all other committees of the House must clear, was powerful enough to prevent pressure group legislation from reaching the floor or slow it down until the public generally had had an opportunity to consider it and express their opposition or approval to their duly elected representatives. In other words, the Rules Committee acted somewhat in the nature of a governor on a mechanical engine. It often prevented hastily conceived legislative proposals from reaching the floor in the hysteria created by minority groups. Thus it afforded an opportunity for a cooling off period, and in some rare instances actually prevented the proposal from reaching the floor. For instance, this occurred in the 79th Congress when that group held the iniquitous and highly controversial FEPC Bill from the floor, where it was generally conceded it would pass due to pressure groups. For this reason the Administration, taking advantage of the political upset in the last Presidential election, took this power away from the committee and rammed through its so-called 21-day rule by which the Administration leaders could bring any bill approved by a legislative committee to the floor within 21 days after that committee had acted upon it, thus bypassing the Rules Committee. Under the old rule, however, to which this resolution would return, the House always had and would continue to have the power to work its will by bringing any piece of legislation to the floor by petition signed by 218 Members (a majority) of the House.

As a result of the 21-day rule, the FEPC Bill and a number of other controversial bills which would add to deficit spending are now in order for consideration next Monday.

IMPLICATIONS
The vote on the resolution in the Rules Committee came without warning to the leadership and the sponsors of the FEPC Bill and other Administration leaders including the veteran chairman of the committee, Congressman Adolph Sabath of Illinois, with more than 40 years of consecutive service in the House, during a stormy legislative session. It was carefully planned and executed by a coalition of 4 Southern Democrats, 1 Northern Democrat, and 4 Republicans, with a resulting vote of 9 to 2.

The resolution must still pass the House itself, and all are agreed that a bitter fight will ensue before final termination. Again it is generally conceded that the Administration will leave no stone unturned to prevent this resolution in the House from becoming effective. For, in addition to the civil rights proposals, the Administration's whole program of deficit spending and other so-called liberal policies is at stake.

OYSTER REEFS TO BE OPENED ON MONDAY

Biloxi, Miss.—Natural oyster reefs in Mississippi south of Pass Marianne channel will be opened Monday for tonging only.

The announcement came from Clell Dildy, secretary of the Mississippi sea food commission.

Dildy said that the operator of any boat caught with dredges aboard would be prosecuted. He said the reefs are being opened early because of damage being done by conks.

He said the commission believed all future oyster catching would be by tonging because of the damage done by dredges.

DEFRAUDED OF $4,600.
Chicago—A short conversation on the street with two men cost Giuseppe Griseta, 54, jobless construction worker, his life-savings of $4,600. One of the men offered Griseta a good job in Italy and to prove his solidity, showed Griseta a roll of bills—$7,000. Griseta, convinced, withdrew his savings and before he realized it, he had been tricked into giving it to the men, who promptly disappeared.

ARMED FORCES CUTS
Present indications are that the Army, Navy and Air Force combined will spend fully $700,000,000 less in the current fiscal year than Congress appropriated for them. The actual outlay of "new money" (as distinguished from payment of past authorizations) will be kept at something like $12,800,000,000 rather than the $13,000,000,000 appropriated by Congress.

Farmers Turning To Beef, Dairy, Poultry Enterprises
Improved Pastures Increase Production

State College, Miss.—Looking to the future, Mississippi farmers are following advice of county agricultural agents concerning improved pastures and beef cattle, dairy and poultry enterprises.

As the result of better pastures in Greene County, farmers are improving their grade herds with registered males, reported county agent A. J. Huff, Leesville.

Huff the past week helped three Greene County farmers select three registered Polled Hereford males and one heifer, which they bought from the Rock Hill Ranch at Purvis.

"It is believed that Carroll County's future lies in pasture and livestock and that county shows go a long way in encouraging this sort of enterprise," said county agent Richard A. Cooper, Carrollton.

Livestock Show
Plans are already underway for the biggest livestock show ever to be held in Carroll County in March, the agent said. A new shed has been added all the way on one side of the existing 100-foot structure and considerable grading has been done. Show prizes will amount to $900.

County agent R. C. Robinson, Hernando, reported considerable damage to pecan orchards in DeSoto County from the recent freeze.

Hancock Rains
Some farmers in the county have started winter plowing on bottom land where there is no danger of overflow, he said.

County agent Paul Keller, Iuka, reported no farming being done in "Phishing" County. Winter grazing and winter cover crops are late in the county, but good in spite of too much rain.

Howard Simmons, county agent, Bay St. Louis, reported too much rain in Hancock County also but excellent winter cover and grazing crops.

WRIGHT WILL BE AT CROP PROGRAM

To Represent State at Orleans Ceremony

Miss G. Fielding Wright will represent Mississippi at the national dedication of the "Friendship Food" train collected by the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) in New Orleans Jan. 30. W. F. Bond, state CROP chairman, said. Leading civic groups of New Orleans are sponsoring the dedication which will climax the 35-state campaign including Mississippi.

The dedication is sponsored by the New Orleans Board of Port Commissioners, International Trade Mart, New Orleans Cotton Exchange, Steamship Association, Board of Trade and Great New Orleans.

Had it not been for the backing of the states' leading farm and civic leaders as well as our churches, CROP would not be the success it is today," Bond said. "This food represents Christianity in action, a true Christian regard for those for whom there has been no peace no return to freedom from want and fear."

HIGHWAY SYSTEM LAGS, IS CHARGE

Edgewater Park, Miss.—Members of the Truck Trailer Manufacturers Association in their annual convention heard a charge that "our present highway system is 10 to 15 years behind the tempo of modern times and lagging far behind the industries which really blaze the trail in this country."

The accusation was hurled against federal and state governments and railroads by Earl Frankenberg, Louisville, Ky., attorney who specializes in practice before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He declared highway construction and maintenance is far behind the paces set by such industries as trailer, truck and automobile manufacturing, and especially far behind progress of the over-the-road commercial transportation system.

Basing his charge in part on extensive travel over the highways, Frankenberg said the federal government and all state governments "have been derelict in their duty of building and maintaining adequate highway system, and from the standpoint of highway safety, an indictment should lie in favor of the American people against all parties charged with building and maintaining adequate roads."

To correct the inadequacies will be costly, he conceded, but he reminded his listeners, billions in taxes are collected solely for highway construction and improvement.

The idea that "rolling billboards" advertising nationally distributed products can be an indirect but powerful spur to sales of property-carrying trailers was suggested by George F. Kinkead, Louisville, president, Trailer Advertising, Inc.

In joining the compact, Mississippi became a member of the interstate co-operation instrument along with Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas. The compact is designed to promote conservation in the marine fisheries of the Gulf states and work for uniform laws on fishing in Gulf waters.

Kinkead conceded that trailer manufacturers themselves would have no direct role in his plan, but he explained, rental by truck and trailer-operating companies of the smooth sides of their vans for advertising purposes would provide the motor carriers with many thousands of dollars of rent receipts annually.

Fred B. Lautzenhiser, Chicago, executive staff consulting engineer for International Harvester Company's truck division, strongly supported maximum gross vehicle weight ratings established by truck and tractor manufacturers and implied broadly that it might be well for manufacturers of cargo trailers to adopt somewhat the same system.

The speaker rapped so-called ton-mile taxes and gross receipts taxes as inequitable, pointing out that they usually constitute double taxation and the latter fails to reflect actual highway use.

GOV. WRIGHT SIGNS FISHERIES LAW

Miss. Joins Other Gulf States in Compact

Jackson, Miss.—Gov. Fielding L. Wright signed into law a measure making Mississippi a member of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Compact.

Meanwhile, the three members from the state were appointed to the Gulf States Marine Fisheries commission to attend a meeting of the five-state commission at Tampa, Fla., beginning Wednesday.

Appointed by Gov. Wright was Louis Simmons, Biloxi, seafood union head. By concurrent resolution, Rep. Reece Bickerstaff, Gulfport, was named from the state Legislature. Third member of the commission will be Naif Jordan, president of the Mississippi seafood commission.

In joining the compact, Mississippi became a member of the interstate co-operation instrument along with Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas. The compact is designed to promote conservation in the marine fisheries of the Gulf states and work for uniform laws on fishing in Gulf waters.
